DR S.SUBRAMANIAN
NICE, CHENNAI

About the workshop

HINE is one of the widely used early neurological examination tool and has a good sensitivity and predictability value in infants of 2 -2 4 months of age for CP. The scale has a three components neurological examination, developmental milestone and behavioral aspects. This workshop will start with an introduction to HINE, it's role as a transdisciplinary tool. There will be an additional component dealing with the role of genetics and metabolism in growth and development. Participants will get trained in using HINE and will also be quizzed on the topics discussed.
